Okay, we're gonna see now the last technique from the stand up, when I'm behind my opponent. Okay, so from this one, what I want to do, I want to control the hand that I have in the crossing, in the front of his belly. I'm gonna keep my arm in the front of his belly, and the arm, another arm, I want to cover on top of my wrist, because I don't remember, I don't want him controlling my wrist in this way. Okay, so in this case, he's gonna try to break my grip. Gonna try to break my grip. Gonna try to break my grip. And when he tries to break my grip, I'm gonna let him break my grip. And as soon as I let him break my grip, I just gonna go into his neck, okay? And as soon as I go into his neck, I gotta, what I have to do, I'm gonna use my knee. I'm gonna knee behind his knee. I'm gonna use my knee to make him bend his knee. I'm gonna do this move. And now I'm just gonna try walking backwards, and pulling him down. One more time. So in this technique, I don't have a lot of control of his body, so you have to make sure that you keep your chest behind his back, okay? Otherwise, he just gonna turn and gonna face to me, okay? I'm gonna be here, I'm gonna control my wrist. Now, what I want to do, I want to sweep on top of his neck. Okay, I'm gonna drop my knee. And immediately, I'm gonna start walking backwards. I'm gonna do this move. I'm gonna be here, I'm gonna try to break. It's not gonna start walking backwards, okay? One more time. I'm gonna be here, I'm gonna try to break my grip. Okay, as soon as I feel that I'm ready to go to his neck, I'm going immediately. And the same time, I'm gonna drop my knee, I'm gonna change my level, I'm gonna use my knee behind his knee. And then I'm gonna do this move. Okay, so from here, I'm gonna keep my arm in the front of his body. Now, I'm just gonna try walking backwards. And then, here, I'm ready to attack his neck or placing the hooks.
